The mission of Ryan's Quest is to increase awareness of Duchenne muscular dystrophy with the purpose of allocating funds for research that has the greatest potential of finding a cure or treatment for this disease.

Ryan's Quest is primarily focused on supporting research for near-term, potential therapeutics and better testing platforms (tools) for development of Duchenne compounds. We are also interested in helping support families that are enrolled in clinical trials.

Duchenne muscular dystrophy is the number one lethal genetic disorder in childhood. It affects 1 in every 3,500 births. 50% of all cases of Duchenne are the results of spontaneous genetic mutation—meaning it could happen to anyone. Boys with Duchenne lose the ability to walk between the ages of 8-10 (Ryan is now 15 years old), typically require respiratory support by their late teens, and survive only into their 20s.

Your participation in the Ryan's Quest Golf Classic will bring us one swing closer to a cure!
